

NURSE UNFOLDS TRAGIC STORY OF INCIDENTS BEHIND SLAYING

Tale of Betrayal and Putative Wedding Ceremony,
Her Effort to Have Man Right the Wrong He Had Done Before Marrying Another,
Form Dramatic Chapter in New York Court

NEW YORK, March 30.—Almost swooning on the stand, Miss Olive M. P. Stone, graduate nurse charged with murder, today described incidents which she said had preceded the shooting of Ellis G. Kinkead, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, in front of his Brooklyn home on August 5, 1921.

In dramatic fashion, she unfolded to the supreme court jury, a tale of betrayal, a putative wedding ceremony, a woman's efforts to get a man to right the wrong he had done before marrying another woman, an attack of dizziness and an awakening in jail without recollection of having fired the shot that killed.

She vehemently denied having gone to Cincinnati for the pistol and cartridges. The weapon, she said, she always had carried with her in her nursing days and even on the morning of the shooting. She said she then had believed to have been her honeymoon. The object of her pursuit of Kinkead, she said, was to assist her in getting a decree of divorce which would establish the fact that she once had been married to him and restore her good name.

SHRINKS UNDER CHARGE
The prosecution rested Wednesday afternoon without waiting for the arrival of United States Attorney Clark of Cincinnati, who had been asked to come here to testify against Miss Stone.

Edward J. Reilly, the lawyer who was compelled to continue in her defense after Miss Stone sought to dismiss him, immediately outlined to the jury the defense case, indicating both the "unwritten law" and plea of insanity would figure in the testimony. He painted Mrs. Marie Gormley Kinkead, widow of the slain man, as the root of the trouble, pointing at her shrinking figure in the courtroom as he charged her with being the former proprietor of a rendezvous for young girls in Cincinnati, association with whom, he declared, had wrecked Kinkead's life.

"This is the sad and tragic case of a virtuous and honorable woman whose mind could stand the strain no longer," Mr. Reilly said, "and we intend to prove that she had no intention of killing Kinkead."

LIVED DOUBLE LIFE
Describing Kinkead's life in Cincinnati, he said: "During the day he was a brilliant man and stood at the head of his profession. At night he sank to the gutter through drugs and physical excesses at a rendezvous for girls 13 and 14 years of age in Cincinnati, association with whom, he declared, had wrecked Kinkead's life."

He said Kinkead's Cincinnati physician had urged that he and Miss Stone take the trip to Atlantic City, and the two had registered there as patient and nurse.

"Olive Stone was a woman who had never known a man in her life," he continued. "She and Ellis Kinkead were thrown into close companionship and attracted to each other. He proposed marriage. Olive Stone was not a fly young girl. She was a nurse and took him seriously."

GAVE WEDDING RING
"They were as far as the front door of the city hall in Atlantic City," she said to her. "Olive, there is a woman in Cincinnati who imagines she has a claim upon me. If she finds we are married she will do everything to ruin my position. I have you and you love me. I am a lawyer, as you know. Now, it is just as sacred to me as it is to you. I will do everything and I'll place on your hand a wedding ring."

"He bought her the ring she is now wearing in this court room, and placed this sacred band upon her finger."

They registered at an Atlantic City hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Kinkead, he said.

LEARNED OF INFIDELITY
After another visit to Atlantic City Mr. Reilly said, where Kinkead and Olive Stone registered as Ellis G. Kinkead and nurse, the pair went back to Cincinnati. There, he continued, Kinkead returned to the company of Marie Gormley, while the defendant resumed nursing.

The defendant, her counsel declared, learned of Kinkead's infidelity and sought relief in the courts, but through the latter's political influence was unable to secure relief. Not long after according to Mr. Reilly, Kinkead and Marie Gormley were married in Cincinnati by a lawyer, who also was a partner with Kinkead in the business of a table and this lawyer murdered Kinkead. The last thing the pair did before leaving Cincinnati, he said, was to blacken the reputation of Olive Stone at the General Hospital and cause her to be dropped from the nurses' list, leaving her a "beggar in the streets."

ONE JUROR CRIES
It was not until a juror cried that Olive Stone learned that Kinkead and Marie Gormley were married, and it was not until then that she blamed Kinkead, despite his treatment of her. Reilly continued, she sought him in New York and pleaded in vain with Kinkead for a legal separation. His refusal led her in desperation to the act which ended Kinkead's life.

One of the jurors cried as Reilly reached the climax of the woman's story and handkerchiefs were in evidence among many persons in the courtroom.

The prosecution rested its case after calling several witnesses to the stand who identified cartridges, testified to seeing Miss Stone shoot four times at Kinkead as they stood together in a roadway, and related her actions when taken into custody following the shooting.

CO-OPERATIVE PAY DAY SPECIAL

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

CO-OPERATION

Ogden's payroll for public improvements is larger than all the similar payrolls of the state combined, according to conclusions which may be drawn from an article in Tuesday evening's editorial columns.

Local industries are returning rapidly to normal output and additional men are being given work. THIS MEANS NORMAL PAYROLLS.

This prosperity brightens the outlook for the merchant, whose business, to a large extent, depends upon the payroll.

Since the merchant and the working man alike are dependent upon the pay envelope, co-operation must be of mutual benefit. TO ASSIST THOSE WHO DEPEND ON THESE PAYROLLS, SPECIAL VALUES HAVE BEEN ARRANGED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THE STORE FOR OGDEN'S FIRST CO-OPERATIVE PAYDAY SALE.

LAST & THOMAS

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY

EMPLOYEES GIVE WATCH TO WARD

Solid Gold Timepiece and Chain for Retiring Commissioner

The high esteem in which employees of the city held Commissioner J. Ray Ward, who will soon resign from the city commission to assume his new duties of United States marshal, was reflected Wednesday when the workers presented their "boss" with a solid gold watch and chain. The presentation was made at the central fire station, Fire Chief G. A. Graves acting as spokesman for the donors.

Chief Graves said: "Captain Ward, we have asked you to meet with this evening, that we may unite in saying farewell to you as one of the City Fathers, with whom we have worked for the past two years and in which every possible success and happiness in your new undertaking."

"To cooperate with you, and work with you in this city of Ogden, has been a pleasure. And the past years have created a bond of service between you and the employees of this city, that we dislike to see ended."

"It is, however, with every possible wish for your future success that we say goodbye to you as an official of this city. Because you have won the respect and admiration of all of us with whom you have come in contact, and to show our appreciation in more than mere words, I take pleasure in presenting you with this little token of our esteem for the past two years."

Among those present were Mayor Frank Francis, Chief of Police John Jones, Captain Robert Burke, Dr. R. H. Wilson and employees from the various departments of the city.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 30.—Governor Charles H. Mabey issued a requisition on Governor D. W. Davis of Idaho today for the return here of "Curley" Ross, held at Pocatello, to answer a charge of second degree burglary.

G. O. P. POLICIES SCORED BY COX

Democratic Nominee Gives Unreserved Support to Ford Nitrate Offer

JACKSON, Miss., March 30.—James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, and Democratic presidential candidate in 1920, scored the international policies of the Republican administration and what he termed "Lodgeism" and the "bolt" weevilism in his international affairs" in an address before a joint session of the two houses of the Mississippi legislature Wednesday night. He paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson and the league of nations and urged upon the Southern farmer the need of diversification.

Referring to Henry Ford in his effort to obtain the lease of the Muscle Shoals nitrate and waterpower projects, Mr. Cox said: "I want to see his millions and nature's vast facilities joined at Muscle Shoals. I want to see the government of the United States give him this opportunity."

He closed his address with an optimistic prediction for the future of the Democratic party.

BETTER RACING IN CALIFORNIA PLANNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 30.—California's experiment in better racing is expected to get under way by next Thanksgiving. Rudolph Spreckles, Herbert Fleischacker, D. C. Jackling and the others interested in promotion of the sport with gambling eliminated, have formed a corporation under the Delaware laws to hold and operate the old Tanforan racetrack near here, announced Wednesday that they expected soon to begin construction of a new grandstand at the racetrack. The structure is expected to cost half a million dollars and will be ready, it is expected, by November.
